

My name is Rhonda White, and I am writing to you on behalf of Sarah's mission Inc., a nonprofit organization based in Irvington, NJ. Our mission is to honor and remember mothers by spreading love and awareness, with a focus on fighting illiteracy in our community.

At Sarah's mission, we personalize children's books for poverty-stricken children, encouraging their joy of reading. We also host an annual Mother's Day buffet luncheon in memory of my mother, Sarah Ryan Warren, who passed away in 2005 from brain cancer. Sarah was a dedicated community servant, and our organization was created to continue her legacy of giving back and making a positive impact.

Currently, we are working on a project to address the high illiteracy rate among elementary students in our community. By personalizing a book for a child and making them the star of the story, we hope to inspire a love for reading and make a lasting difference in their lives.

To achieve our goals, we rely on the support of generous individuals and businesses like yours. We kindly request your assistance in the form of a monetary donation, which will go towards our latest project and provide a personalized children's book for a child in need. Your support is crucial to the success of our efforts, and we would be grateful for any contribution you can make.

If you have any questions or would like more information, please do not hesitate to contact me at Sarah's mission (Sarahsmission227@gmail.com). Donations can be made via Zelle to the same email address.

Thank you for considering our request and for your commitment to making a difference in our community. We look forward to the possibility of partnering with you and keeping you updated on our progress.

Sincerely,

Rhonda White
